32 HOURS OF TRAINING OVER 4 DAYS

This is a follow-on course to the SWAT Command Decision-Making and Leadership I course. A comprehensive array of topics will be discussed including improving the structure and delivery of training, maximizing training hours, methods to incorporate SWAT into large scale planned operations, problem-solving methods and analytical thinking, organizational leadership, trust, and much more. Overall discussions will aid students in their role as leaders within their units and agencies.

This class includes intensive academic and theoretical components. Students will conduct research, participate in analytical discussions, and produce written documents to enhance team preparedness.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- Understanding and proper application of problem-solving techniques and analytical thinking
- Deconstructing team, squad, and individual skills
- Identifying and distinguishing between basic aspects of several modern leadership theories
- Identifying critical mission areas and logistical concerns of a large operation
- Identifying various potential missions that would benefit from a multi-jurisdictional response
- Understanding the relationship between tactics and tempo