

A photograph showing police officers at a scene. One officer in the foreground has "SBPD NEGOTIATOR" on their back. A suspect in a white hoodie has their hands behind their back. A police car with "POLICE" on the back is visible.

Crisis Intervention Team (CIT) Training

WHY CRISIS INTERVENTION TEAM TRAINING?

This course is designed to prepare sworn Law Enforcement Officers to respond effectively and safely to people with mental illnesses and/or co-occurring substance use disorders that are in crisis.

Approximately,

25%

of all officer involved shootings involves people with mental illness.

Studies show officers who attended a CIT training exhibit greater knowledge, improved attitudes, reduced stigma, greater self-efficacy, and better decision-making regarding mental health related encounters.

WHO NEEDS TO ATTEND CIT TRAINING?

- Law Enforcement Officers assigned to a Crisis Intervention Team
- Patrol Officers
- Law Enforcement Supervisors
- Law Enforcement Administrators

WHAT IT COVERS

- Introduction to Mental Health Disorders
- Policy and Procedure
- Mental Health Resources
- Suicidal Subjects
- Liability & Legal Considerations
- Verbal and Tactical De-escalation

Attendees will participate in a 40-hour online, instructor-led training.

This course will teach you to respond to people in crisis safely and effectively.

REGISTER NOW AND SECURE YOUR SPOT TODAY!